

SPECTACULAR FIRE DRAWS CROWD TO LEWIS AVENUE

One Family Flees from House as Blaze Breaks out in Attic.

A spectacular fire in the three-family house at 47-51 Lewis avenue last Saturday night shortly after ten drew a crowd and forced the family of Edward Hackett, owner of the house and occupier of the top floor, into the street.

The fire, which started from an oil stove in the attic, was particularly hard to fight as the firemen had to climb crooked stairs to get to its source. The gases from the fire blew out the attic windows and the flames bursting out sent the crowd to a safe distance. The firemen were forced to work with gas masks on and some of them received minor cuts from the glass.

The attic was gutted and the roof and the top floors damaged. The second floor, occupied by Mrs. Florence Loring and family and the first, by Mrs. George Saurman and Joseph Donovan were damaged by water; not seriously, however, as the firemen covered the furniture.

Mid-Winter Frolic For Pupils of Academy of Music

The pupils of the Arlington Academy of Music on Russell street were treated to many surprises at a Mid-Winter Frolic, a merry Christmas party, given by the director, Leonard Wood, and the faculty last Saturday afternoon at the Academy on Russell street.

Surrounded by gay and colorful decorations, the pupils were divided into three groups, elementary, junior and senior high pupils, each having a party of their own. There were games, prizes, readings, singing and playing Christmas carols, a Christmas tree and a happy time for all.

The climax of the party was when Frank Ward entertained the older group by playing popular music on the vibraphones for which he is well known.

Santa Claus ice creams and cookies were served during each party and a delightful time was had by all.

CARS SKID INTO COLLISIONS ON CONCORD 'PIKE

Many Accidents Caused by Bad Driving Conditions.

Cars skidded into collisions over a thin layer of ice on the Concord turnpike opposite Arlmont village Thursday morning, while fog and slippery pavements caused accidents in other parts of town.

The first accident, in which five cars were involved, occurred at a quarter to seven in the morning. A Plymouth sedan operated by Lester G. Bell of Quincy collided with a Chrysler sedan driven by George Ministeri of South Boston, which in turn ran into a Chevrolet sedan driven by Stanley Sachowitz of Boston. Then, the car driven by Jeremiah F. O'Brien of Malden was in collision with one driven by Donald H. Laidlaw of Dorchester.

The police ambulance and scout cars went to the scene of the accident. Henry Repucci, 31, of 322 Hanover street, Boston, and Frank Masucci, 26, of 149 Salem street, Boston, were taken to Symmes Hospital in the ambulance. George Abbott of South Boston, a passenger in Ministeri's car, complained of injuries.

In the second accident, at half past seven, three Lexington cars were involved. William H. Hunne-man's car was hit by one driven by Ronald H. Emus, who was taking his wife into Boston to a doctor, and Emus' car was struck by Viner Curdy's.

At the request of the police this portion of the 'pike was sanded. Puts Out Lights and Smashes Car Robert C. Donovan's car crashed into the Edison company's ornamental pole at the corner of Massa-

RED CROSS GIVES TEA FOR WORKERS

The Arlington Chapter of the Red Cross entertained at tea Monday afternoon in their rooms over the Five Cents Savings Bank all those who have helped in their work. During the afternoon the rooms were visited by about a hundred and fifty women.

The tea table was effectively decorated with poinsettias, white candles, and Christmas wreaths. During the first hour the pourers were Mrs. Earl E. Bolton and Mrs. Frank Robbins and during the second, Miss Amy M. Yeames and Mrs. Lewis E. Stickney.

Mrs. Harold B. Turner heads the Red Cross Committee which managed the affair. Her helpers were Mrs. Herbert Reed, Mrs. Walter Vaughn, Miss Ethel Kinney, Mrs. Marion Campbell, Mrs. Clifford H. Ernest Moore, whose farm has been in the Moore family for years and whose home is at 351 Massachusetts avenue; John Crosby of 246 Mystic street, who is on the place that was farmed by his grandfather seventy-two years ago; the Kennedys on Summer street, McHugh Brothers, also on Summer street, and Peter L. "Get Together" Meeting of Fund Workers Next Week

A "Get Together" meeting of all the volunteer workers for the 1941 Community Fund Campaign has been planned for Thursday evening, January 5th, at the Winchester Country Club. It was announced today by the Arlington headquarters of the Boston Fund. All district directors and others who have volunteered for this work are urged to set this evening aside to attend this meeting which should mean much toward the success of the local drive. The principal speaker will be Henry R. Guild, general chairman of the Greater Boston Community Fund for this year. There will be entertainment and refreshments will be served. Those desiring transportation may call local headquarters, Arlington 2430.

Mrs. William A. Muller, community chairman, was pleased to announce this week that the local campaign committee had acquired, through the kindness and generosity of Mrs. Omar W. Whittemore, the owner, a large store at 677 Massachusetts avenue to be used as the general headquarters of the committee during the drive from January 18th to February 5th. The new headquarters will be occupied this week and as it is directly opposite the Robbins Library should prove easily accessible to all.

FOURTEEN MEN TO LEAVE MONDAY FOR INDUCTION

Most of Those in Group Are Volunteers. To be Sent to South Army for Examination.

FRIENDS GIVE 1941 GLORIOUS WELCOME

Thoughts for the morning after (not very clear, but enthusiastic): The Arlington Friends of the Drama gave 1941 a glorious welcome at the Town Hall on New Year's Eve, and it was really and truly one swell party, marking as it did two distinct innovations. For the first time the annual Theatrical Ball was held on the eve of traditional celebration and for the first time it was done cabaret style. The hall was crammed with chairs and tables, yet, miraculously, there seemed to be plenty of space left for dancing, or at least jostling. And the attendance, which was absolute maximum, proved the success of the New Year's Eve idea. The committee, headed by Maestro Edward W. Center, is fully justified in puffing up with pride.

For the first two hours the hall itself never looked prettier, but after the party got a bit warmed up, the decorations of colored streamers, which roofed in the milling

Founders' Day Observed at First Parish

Founders' Day was observed last Sunday at the First Parish (Unitarian) church. This marked the 208th year of its existence, as a petition to organize a church was granted on December 27, 1732.

Rev. John Nicol Mark preached to a large congregation. Flowers for the occasion were given by George A. Smith and Miss Elizabeth A. Smith in memory of Nathan Robbins, grandfather of Miss Ida Robbins, now of Switzerland. Mr. Robbins was a prominent layman of the First Parish and every Sunday for years provided the flowers.

Twenty-three new members were extended the right hand of fellowship by Mr. Mark.

Selectmen Adopt Coasting Rules

At their meeting Monday evening, the Selectmen adopted regulations for coasting in 1941. As is natural, because of the many hills, most of the streets where coasting is allowed are at the Heights, though there are some in other sections of the town.

Coasting hours on Saturday, holidays and school holidays are from nine in the morning until nine at night and on other days from three in the afternoon until nine at night. Cars must not be parked during these hours on the streets set aside for coasting.

Girl Scouts to Hold Annual Open Meeting

January 16th, 1941, is a date for the people of Arlington to mark on their calendars and save. The meeting will be held in the Junior Library Hall at eight o'clock, and it is hoped that the townspeople will support this new venture. SPORTS

ARLINGTON DROPS THRILLER
TO CAMBRIDGE LATIN 1-0

Red and Gray "Has Edge as Far as Skating and Fighting Goes."

Cambridge Latin edged out a fighting Arlington High sextet, 1-0, in the feature game of last Saturday's Greater Boston League round robin. Melrose added to its prestige by whitewashing the hapless Belmont sextet, 8-0, thus establishing itself in first place with three wins and no defeats. The El Ponders are the only club with a clean record and they are definitely the team to beat. The Cambridge team, by virtue of its victory over the Red and Gray, moved into the runner-up position, one half game behind the leaders. Newton managed to ward off a third period Stoneham rally and win 2-1, placing it in a third place tie with Rindge, which coasted to a 4-1 win over Medford. Verrier again stealing the spotlight. Arlington and Belmont remain closeted in the cellar, without a victory but if the locals continue to improve, they'll win one before many more weeks roll by.

Coach Charlie Downs juggled his first two lines and came up with a wave that was able to keep Toscano moving in the Latin cage. Art Blanchard kept his position as might be expected; but Allie Burns and Ed Bennett moved up to skate with him. These boys really looked as though they might develop and if it hadn't been for some remarkable net-minding they would have given Arlington a victory in their first game as a unit.

The deciding goal came early in the first period with Russ Boudreau passing Ike Bevins at 3:18 on what could be classed as a fluke goal. The puck was rolling at the defense when he managed to get his stick on it and poke it into the corner.

During the last two sessions Arlington did everything but score, while the Cantabs played a strictly defensive battle. About the middle of the second period Blanchard passed to Burns who had a fine opportunity but just missed. A few moments later the combination was reversed and Captain Arthur barely missed tying the game. In the last stanza the trio teamed on at least four rushes which just fell short of winning. It can be said in all fairness that while Latin won the game, the underdog Arlington aggregation clearly had the edge as far as skating and fighting goes.

The summary:

Cambridge

Murphy, lw. Burns, rw. Dinan, c. Blanchard, St. Hilaire, rw. Bennett, Boudreau, ld. Middleton, Lyshorn, rd. Maguire, Toscano, g. Bevins.

Alternatives: Cambridge Latin—Cleary, Fitzgerald, Linsky, Leary, Mulcahy, Heavern, Wholey, Arlington—Fowler, McArdle, Beardsley, Harvey, Ritchie, Cunha, Regan.

Score—Cambridge Latin 1, Arlington 0.

First period—Boudreau, 3:18.

Second period—Penalty, Blanchard (holding). Referees—Cunningham and Gallagher.

8. Your bicycle should be equipped with front and rear lights if you ride at night. *From 5:00 to 8:00 o'clock at night is the most dangerous time to ride a bicycle.
9. Ride on the right side of the road. Do not ride against traffic.

"HOLLYWOOD under OBSERVATION"

University Presents "Bittersweet"
Barrymores Become Radio Royalty Too.

By Joseph Hoar

"The Mark of Zorro"
Starts Sunday

"The Mark of Zorro" is having quite a time at the University. It was first shown in the wee hours of 1941 at the New Year's Eve show. This Saturday the kiddos will see it at a special 10 A. M. showing. The following day the film begins a three-a-day screening for three days, making a total of 11 unreelings.

Tyrone Power, who has small knowledge of characterization, has the leading role. He doesn't even begin to match the silky Mr. Rathbone, yet Mr. Power has the power to fill more theatre chairs than eight Rathbones. But, mind you, Tyrone is improving all the time. He has to be at work at 6 A. M. every day. He acts for the cameras all day long. He can't get any worse. But such a thing doesn't bother his bosses for did not Tyrone rank fifth in money making potentialities of the entire industry? We can expect, then, to see Mr. Power next in "Svengali."

Linda Darnell, another damp-behind-the-ears camera target, can be seen in the love scenes with the incredible Mr. Power while the suave Mr. Rathbone walks off, sword in hand, with the flicker's acting honors. Co-attraction is "Dancing on a Dime."

"Jezebel" and
"Quality Street"

For Review Day

Magnificent "Jezebel" with its hell cat Bette Davis and deeply moving "Quality Street" with its fiery Katharine Hepburn, make a truly unusual coalition of motion picture entertainment, brought back in a pair for your enjoyment, one day only, Wednesday, January 8, 1941. Donald Crisp is outstanding in "Jezebel" which also features George Brent and Henry Fonda. "Bittersweet"

Starts Thursday

Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy co-star in Noel Coward's "Bittersweet." It is sad to report, this, of all their successes, ranks lowest. "Sweethearts" was bad enough, but this, it is feared, is ranker. Ironically, it joined in with the Boston date during which Miss MacDonald appeared in person to her own disadvantage on a concert hall stage. Mr. Eddy's recent self-centered discussion on great singers was also badly timed with this latest Metro turkey. The lovely Jeanette has a truly inspirational voice when doctored by the intricacies of a mechanical sound stage, but she is far too gentle in her tone to hope to reach the ears of back-seaters in an auditorium. Mr. Eddy, on the other hand, is also a capable singer. Several thousands of people in this country stay home every Sunday evening for the pleasure of shutting him off. He is mammoth as a harmonizer but lately, slips alone.

Co-feature on this singer show is "Hullabaloo" which might be another name for Versatility of Frank Morgan. It is a one-man show and Mr. Morgan, who has often pilfered epics from right under the celebrated noses of Eddy and MacDonald, proves to be in fine fettle.

The regular business meeting of St. James' Branch No. 17, Massachusetts Catholic Woman's Guild, will be held Tuesday evening, January 7. Mrs. Sarah Connolly, Regent, will preside.

JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB NOTES

The holiday season Sports Dance held at Mt. Hood Country Club last Friday evening, gave everyone a grand time. As many students from schools and colleges were home, there was a large attendance. Misses Mary Tee and Betty Nichol were co-chairmen.

Blind Circle Christmas Party

The Blind Circle was treated to a surprise at a very Merry Christmas party held last Saturday. Eleven-year-old Charlotte Knowlton, mirlabaphonist, accompanied by her father and mother, were enthusiastically received and they obligingly filled many requests. The Christmas carols were sung. Elizabeth Cody appeared as Santa and distributed the gifts to the Circle members. Ice cream, cookies, candy and cakes served by Miss Ruby Geddes and her committee brought a delightful meeting to a close. Transportation was furnished by the following: Miss Betty Nichol, Miss Mary Carter, Miss Rosella Gallagher and Miss Mary Harvey.

Board Meeting

The monthly Board meeting was held at the home of the president, Natalie Johnson, last Monday. Many important affairs were discussed. Ice cream and cookies were served and each guest was the recipient of a favor.

A donation of canned goods, toys and 250 gaily wrapped candy packages were presented to the Arlington Welfare Department for distribution in Christmas stockings.

A $25.00 check, the club's donation to the fund for the Rolling Kitchen, has been sent to the Mass. State Federation of Women's Clubs. The money was earned by the sale of hand-painted pins.

The Junior Convention of the State Federation of Women's Clubs will be held on January 11 at 2:30 p. m. A full program has been planned. Highlights of the program include speakers, a dinner and a fashion show. Call Nat Johnson for further information and reservations.

The next meeting will be held next Monday at the Junior Library Hall. A representative of the Community Fund will show a movie on the work done by this organization. Miss Catherine C. Perry, Director of Social Activities for the Boston Seaman's Friend Society, Inc., will present an illustrated talk on her work with this organization.

Happy and prosperous New Year to all!

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

The American Legion Auxiliary of Arlington sent gifts at Christmas to various hospitals throughout New England, where Arlington Veterans of the World War were hospitalized. Post 39 gave the Auxiliary permission to send the gifts of both organizations in one package, which made a very nice remembrance. The chairman for Rehabilitation of the Auxiliary assisted the Post chairman and wrapped the gifts, mailed some of them and went to Bedford and left the majority for Arlington veterans.

Christmas Party

Under the auspices of the American Legion Auxiliary, a Christmas party for worthy children was given two days after Christmas at the Legion Hall. There were 35 children and each received a gift of two boxes of candy, a bag of pop corn, ice cream and cookies. There was much hilarity when during the morning a peanut hunt was in progress. TO PREVENT ANOTHER TRAGEDY

The tragic accident which resulted in the drowning in Spy Pond of two High School boys has aroused Arlington citizens not only to sympathy with the relatives and friends of the boys but to a determination to prevent further tragedies of this kind. Both to the police department and to the Advocate have come suggestions as to means of prevention.

These include the dumping of town ashes and rubbish into the pond until it is filled in, the posting of the pond as unsafe, the use of red lanterns or ropes to mark off dangerous areas, the further patrolling of the pond, and the flooding of other areas for skating.

The pond, according to the police, has always been posted when the ice is unsafe. The wooden signs have been pulled up by the skaters and used for bonfires. Here an improvement has already been made. Metal posts have been put up and on these posts metal signs will be displayed when the ice is unsafe. These are not bonfire material.

Red lanterns, again according to the police have been tried. The skaters pick them up and skate around with them—we can see what fun that would be. The next morning they are found scattered over the ice, some of them broken, far from the area they were supposed to protect.

It is difficult for the police to control skaters. Even since this last accident, when the ice was obviously unsafe, officers have found boys skating on Spy. Several hockey games have been broken up and the boys ordered from the ice, but it is only too easy for a boy on skates to elude an officer on foot and many a boy does it.

Further patrolling of the pond might make the danger less, particularly if patrolmen were put on skates and devoted their energies to patrolling the vicinity of thin ice or open water. The pond, however, is difficult to patrol because it covers so large an area and because it is possible to get on the ice from so many places. For efficient patrol an increased police force would be needed, or a decrease in the protection given to other parts of the town.

It is never, says the Chief of Police, safe on Spy Pond at night. In the coldest weather there are air holes and thin places above springs. The area at the foot of Linwood street is always dangerous. He recalls the tragic accident of fifteen years or so ago when a young couple taking a short cut across the pond, which was apparently frozen solid, went down.

In addition to the danger from holes there is the extreme difficulty of rescue at night. Three boys had been rescued from Spy Pond on the Sunday before the recent tragedy, but they were rescued in the daytime. In the accident at night, in spite of the prompt response of police and firemen when they were notified that cries for help had been heard, it was impossible to locate the holes through which the boys broke.

Moreover, every rescue of anyone who has broken through the ice means danger for the rescuer. At night this danger is far greater than in the daylight.

There are in Arlington several areas prepared for flooding and these areas, among them Thorndike street, at the Cutter School, on Appleton street, Grove street and in Meadowbrook park, were flooded on several dates in December. Possibly it would be better for Arlington children if there were more of these areas.

So far the problem seems to be unsolved. Perhaps its solution may come in greater cooperation of the skaters with the police. Perhaps there may be other and better suggestions which the Advocate and, doubtless, the police will be glad to receive.

Certainly, it is the sincere desire of everyone to prevent another tragedy.

Use Inhalators on Women Overcome by Coal Gas

Inhalators rushed to 85 Lake street by Arlington firemen and police officers saved the lives of two women who had been overcome by coal gas there Christmas afternoon. They were Mary Quinn, aged seventy, and Bridget Dowd, eighty.

Sergeant Pick who was on the desk at police headquarters heard the message from the fire station and immediately sent the Scout Car Seven crew and Officer Keaney in the ambulance with the inhalator. Dr. Gersh was also summoned. After the women had been revived by the inhalators, they were taken to Symmes Arlington Hospital.

Troop Seven Bulletin "The Star" Now Out

It contains troop news, including the names of the new Troop Committee—Mr. Malone, Mr. Weiser, Commander Charles Tynan of the Legion, Mr. Mullen, Mr. Bourque and Mr. Quennville with Mr. Malone as chairman.

Harold J. Publicover is editor; Martin J. Quinlan, honorary editor; James A. Doherty, Jr., Richard W. Malone, Francis Publicover, and William Bourque, assistant editors. George R. Wright is scoutmaster.

News Briefs

The Nazi and R. A. F. planes, grounded in a temporary unofficial holiday truce, become more active on all fronts.

Britain, alert to any sudden German thrust across the channel, doubles all guards along the coast.

Viscount Halifax as Ambassador to the United States, satisfies politicians in both countries.

An embargo against Eire, whose government refuses to permit British use of the vital naval bases, foreshadows firmer British action.

Eamon de Valera asks Uncle Sam to help Eire obtain defense arms and food supplies as he maintains his "neutral" position.

Berlin threatens unrestricted attacks against any merchant ships sent to Eire if the Neutrality Act is reversed to make this possible.

In a radio address, President Roosevelt attacks the "Unholy Alliance" bent on "enslaving the human race" and warns of the peril of the United States as he promises Britain "every ounce and every ton" of munitions and supplies possible.

The American fleet in Asiatic waters strengthened as a warning to Japan.

Russia concentrates troops along Rumania's front as Germany pours troops into the country.

Bulgaria, a potential avenue to Greece or Turkey, anxiously watches German troops gather along the frontier.

Morale emerges as the weak spot in the Italian war armor; soldiers hungry and cold do not know what it is all about. The Greeks—just as hungry and cold—do!

Thrifty Massachusetts citizens bank $2,137,317,803.75 in 192 mutual savings banks up to October 31, the highest in the history of such institutions with the exception of the years 1931 and 1937.

The Federal Civil Service 24-hour system, filling all but more technical jobs, meets the threatened bottle-neck in the Army and Navy defense production.

In accepting a citation from the National Conference of Christians and Jews for his contribution to the improvement of human relations, Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes declares we must ban racism, bigotry, racial animosities and intolerance which "undermine the foundations of democratic effort."

Senator David I. Walsh forces Henry Parkman, Jr., to withdraw from his recent appointment on the legal staff of the War Department. He voluntarily withdraws to save the Administration from unnecessary confusion and delay in the development of policies toward Britain which a debate on the Senate floor (on his appointment) which Walsh threatened, would do. "Parkman emerges from the brush a bigger man," says Roland Sawyer in the Monitor.

The listening public (radio) loses song hits and serious music from the most widely known composers of the last twenty-five years unless some sort of a settlement is reached between the broadcasting industry and the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers. Works of Sibelius, Debussy, Kreisler, Hefeltz, Rachmaninoff, Spalding, Granger, Damosch and others would come under the ban. A committee of leaders in the field of musical education protests the situation—so should all real music-lovers.

Christmas Day.—Christmas Day, this year, may safely be set down as one of the most disagreeable days of the season. On Christmas eve it began snowing and enough fell to cover the ground, but during the night it turned to rain, which continued at intervals during the day.

Annual Gathering.—The annual supper and social festival of the Orthodox church was held in the vestries last Thursday evening. The singing was under the direction of Mr. George H. Rugg and was all most excellent.

Barnard House.—This is the name by which the Arlington Heights Hotel will be known hereafter. Mr. Barnard has purchased it, and hereafter it will be conducted as a first class summer hotel ought to be.

The patrons of the electric cars on Friday afternoon and evening were hardly in a frame of mind to prepare for the turning over of new leaves for the new year. Cars were delayed one, two and even more hours and it was rather cold comfort for the passengers to have the alternative of having to wait in the cold cars this weary time or breast the snowstorm which was of sufficient severity to be termed a "blizzard."

An enjoyable social event of New Year's evening was the card party given by the Misses Hardy, to the Here-and-There Club, at their spacious and attractive home on Lake street. Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Parris were successful in winning the prizes for the highest number of points won to the gentleman and lady and Miss Mary Vaughn and Mr. E. D. Parker were given prizes for running up the largest score in the other direction.

On Wednesday the Messrs. Durgin began cutting ice on Little Spy Pond, and up to last evening had hauled about twenty thousand blocks.

The town clock evidently needs a thorough overhauling. It goes wrong about every night; certainly each extra cold snap causes it to stop running.

It was an awfully mean way to secure a remarkably beautiful Christmas tree.

Driverless Cars Roll Down Hill

Two parked cars rolled away without drivers in Arlington this week. Ernest A. Guillemin of Wellesley Hills had parked his car in front of 189 Jason street Wednesday afternoon. It rolled down and over the embankment just beyond 197. A man living in the vicinity reported it to the police as parked in a peculiar position.

The car owned by Angelo Derico of 123 Hibbert street rolled down hill from in front of his home Monday afternoon and overturned. In neither case was any one injured.

Urges Action to Prevent Recurrence of Tragedy

Once again Spy Pond has taken its toll. The people of the community have been shocked by the tragedy; all sympathy has been extended to the sorrowing families. Is not this the time for us all to resolve that it shall not happen again?

It is a well known fact that certain parts of Spy Pond are seldom, if ever, safe for skating. Years ago the ice over the current was marked off by lanterns; this winter we did not have even that protection. It is also true that very often the ice near the shore on the Pleasant street side is safe. Would it not be possible for the police to rope off an area which they judge to be safe, and prevent children from skating outside this area?

It has been said that the police do not have enough men to enforce such restrictions. Can we not then ask that several men be taken from less necessary duty and assigned to the pond during the skating season? Is there any reason why a squad car could not be assigned to that area?

Another plan offered is to provide better skating facilities at Hills Pond, these to include lights, spraying the ice when it becomes rough, and ample protection. It is also suggested that several playgrounds be flooded to provide safe places for the smaller children. One sees many such areas in other parts of Greater Boston; surely our children deserve as much.

It is difficult for the individual to arrive at a solution. Can we not all, parents, Park Department, Police Department work it out? Let us not wait until the memory of this winter's tragedy has faded and we have been lulled into inactivity. Let us insist that something be done—now!

Timely Letter from Arlington Resident In Boston Herald

C. William Morrill of 15 Cliff street had a timely letter in a recent issue of the Boston Herald. Mr. Morrill urges the hastening of aid for England. In his concluding paragraphs he says:

"If the United States has the courage to send all possible help to Great Britain now and in face of this war threat from Adolf, then will democracy win. And the United States will win at low cost.

"Uphold the President's hands in his outlined plan to give all help to England. Give it to her without cost. We must sacrifice, if our form of government is to remain."

College Night at

Orthodox Church

College Night was held by the young people of the Orthodox Congregational church last Sunday with a large and representative group in attendance.

Seventeen different colleges were represented with from one to five or six members each.

The five speakers were Miss Phyllis Coleman, Jackson-Tufts; Milton C. Paige, Jr., Bowdoin; Laurence Cousins, Brown; Mary McCormick, Smith, and Norman Lacey, Amherst.

Roland Beers played flute solos. Clarence H. Barber of Harvard was accompanist for the musical numbers.

CHURCHES OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

"Christian Science" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon, Sunday, December 29, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The Golden Text will be: "The kingdom of heaven is like unto leaven, which a woman took, and hid in three measures of meal, till the whole was leavened." (Matthew 13:33). Other Bible citations include: "And I John saw the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down from God out of heaven, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband. And I heard a great voice out of heaven saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God" (Revelation 21:2,3).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "This city of our God has no need of sun or satellite, for Love is the Light of it, and divine Mind is its own interpreter. All who are saved must walk in this light. Mighty potentates and dynasties will lay down their honors within the heavenly city. Its gates open towards light and glory both within and without, for all is good, and nothing can enter that city, which 'de-fleth, . . . or maketh a lie'" (p. 577).

dancers, and the hundreds of bright balloons proved to be too great a temptation so that actually the new year was ushered in with true blitz-krieg explosiveness. The noise of the popping balloons and tearing streamers, coupled with the whirring rattles and the wailing horns, must have sounded like London on a very rocky night.

Arlington's own Frank Ward lived up to his advance billing, he and his nineteen jittermen turning out music that certainly must have pleased everyone. At least he gave us everything from the waltz to the conga. And he had a girl named Carmen with him who was both eyefull and earfull. From the membership came two other entertainers in the persons and voices of Kathleen Kilcoyne and June Rowland.

Serving with Mr. Center in hand-ling general arrangements for the welkin ringing were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wallace, Mrs. Jack Goodwin, Mrs. Dow Pickering and Mrs. David R. Kennedy. Mrs. Russell T. Ham-let had charge of tickets and res-ervations. Dow Pickering presided at the soda dispensary all the five hours the dance was in progress, from ten until three in the morn-ing. Miss Eleanor Mansfield was in charge of decorations, and she was assisted by Bernadette Rowland, Mr. and Mrs. Haywood Houghton, and the rest of the committee.

During the course of the evening a buffet supper of sandwiches, tur-KEY and other cold cuts was served, and if everyone did not get his fill of food it was because the gentle-man's shoulders were not broad enough or else he lacked the neces-sary leg drive. Never have we seen so much food disappear with so much joyous gusto.

Not the least contributing factor to the great success of the party was the kindly cooperation of Messrs. Carmody and Canniff, guardian angels of Robbins Mem-orial Town Hall. And we use the word angels advisedly. The attend-ing fire and policemen not only kept things running smoothly but they also seemed to be having a swell time doing it.

May your new year be a happy one, too!

Marriage
BOND -- LOWCOCK

The Orthodox Congregational church was beautifully decorated with palms, flowers and greens for the four o'clock wedding New Year's Day of Miss Marcia Eliza-beth Lowcock, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Richard E. Lowcock of 47 Dra-per avenue, to Charles Cameron Bond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Bond of 42 Brantwood road. Rev. Laurence L. Barber, pastor, performed the double ring service.

The bride, who was given in mar-riage by her father, wore a gown of white satin with a bodice front, sweetheart neck and short sleeves. She carried a cascade bouquet of gardenias and bouvardis. Attending her as bridesmaids were Mrs. Shir-ley Speers, the groom's sister, Miss Frances Taylor, Miss Elinor Storey and Miss Norma Pike. Mrs. Henry Sefton acted as matron of honor for her sister. The bridesmaids wore multi-color gowns shading from lav-ender to deep purple. They carried cascade bouquets of sweet peas to match their gowns. The matron of honor's gown was of aqua and her bouquet was of mixed sweet peas.

The bride's mother wore a fuchsia gown and a corsage of gardenias, while the groom's mother was gowned in blue lace with a corsage of camelias.

Harold Bond acted as best man for his brother. The ushers were Richard Lowcock, brother of the bride, John Wilson, Ronald Speers and Robert Mann.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Bond are graduates of Arlington High School. Mr. Bond also graduated from Babson Institute.

Mr. and Mrs. Bond left by plane for New York. They will make their home in Hartford, Conn.
